

Drennan Named Pocono Mountains Joint Board President

New School District Holds First Meeting

MOUNT POCONO—Harry J. Drennan, Barrett Township, was named president of the newly-organized Pocono Mountains Joint School District at a meeting at the school here last night.

Other officers named are Anthony Bolyn, Paradise; Edward T. Horn, Jr., Pocono, and William Marsh, Coolbaugh, vice-presidents; John Plevyak, Mount Pocono, treasurer; and David E. Neison, Paradise, secretary.

This was the first official meeting of the joint school board. The joint district is made up of eight districts: Barrett, Coolbaugh, Jackson, Paradise, Pocono, Tunkhannock, Tobyhanna and Mount Pocono.

Approval

The individual boards gave their approval to the joint board in November, 1955. It was approved a month later by the county. In January of this year, the State Council of Education gave full and final approval to the joint district.

At last night's meeting, the members of the joint board approved a large number of actions taken during recent months by the joint board's interim steering committee. Among these was the official approval of C. Willis Dunlap, Tobyhanna Township principal, as supervising principal of the entire joint schools.

Alex L. Bensinger was named solicitor for the joint board. He is a member of the Stroudsburg law firm of Bensinger & Bensinger.

Check To Be Made On Authorities

HARRISBURG, July 2 (AP)—The state Justice Dept. intends to make on-the-spot checks in connection with its study of the financial status of Pennsylvania's municipal authorities.

"We will go into the field to see what is going on once we get started," said Murray D. Friedman, of York, the department's chief accountant.

Inspection

He said he expected the field inspections to get under way within the first month of the study. Authorities will be chosen for the on-the-spot checks by means of statistics gathered from submitted financial reports.

"I don't want to say too much about that phase of the study but our statistical summaries will uncover some authorities that don't fit into the pattern of all others in the field," he explained. Most important figures in the statistical analysis will be the percentage of expenses against income.

On June 5 Atty. Gen. Cohen wrote each of the state's 1,031 authorities requesting complete financial reports for the latest three fiscal years and certified reports of audits.

Top Level Conference

NEW YORK—A top level conference of representatives of the Ronsan Corp. and the International Association of Machinists is expected to be held tomorrow at the I.A.M.'s offices here.

It is understood the meeting was arranged by the Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service.

Rejection

The meeting will be the first since some 750 workers at the firm's three plants in East Stroudsburg, Pa., rejected a company offer last week, which provided for 23 cents in wages and benefits over a three year period.

The workers, members of I.A.M. Lodge 1724, went on strike June 1.

Youths Released After Melee On Boardwalk

ANSBURY PARK, N. J., July 2 (AP)—Four youths accused of participating in the free-swinging boardwalk melee late Saturday were released today for a hearing next week while police tried to track down more of the batters.

Four juveniles nabbed by a force of 50 police from a dozen surrounding towns during the fray were paroled in custody of their parents.

Massive Fireworks Display To Be Held Tomorrow Night

MASSIVE FIREWORKS display to be presented tomorrow night at Memorial Stadium, East Stroudsburg, will start promptly at 9:30 p.m. and last nearly one and one-half hours.

Acme Hose Co., sponsoring organization, discussed final details for staging the spectacular display at their meeting in the East Stroudsburg Fire Hall last night.

Thomas Sexton, chairman of the fireworks committee, reported that all persons wishing to attend who have not yet purchased tickets may do so at the gate. The tickets also are available at Lloyd's Sporting Goods Store, East Stroudsburg; D-J Record Shop and Rea and Derick's Drug Store, Stroudsburg.

Sexton said the firemen have not yet reached the half-way point in their drive to raise $5,000 for their building and carnival equipment fund. Contributions are being received from a number of sources outside the borough although no solicitation has been conducted other than in East Stroudsburg.

In fact, he said, one Stroudsburg merchant called yesterday and donated $100 toward the fund. He noted that Acme Hose Co. always stands by in case of a serious fire in Stroudsburg, Stroud Township or other nearby points, and suggested to non-residents of East Stroudsburg that they contribute what they can afford to help boost the fund over the top.

One of the actions taken by the firemen last night was to appropriate $25 for the purchase of tickets to be given to the Society of Friends whose members are volunteering their services in repairing the flood-damaged East Stroudsburg Playground. Gifts of the tickets was a gesture of appreciation for the good job being done by the Quaker work camp, firemen said. The group will be working at the playground until Aug. 16.

At least 45 ground pieces and a number of exceptional aerial bombs will make up the fireworks display. Some of the pieces have never been seen in this locality including several made especially for tomorrow night's show.

One of the pieces will depict, entirely in fireworks, a house catching fire, a fire truck driving up to the scene and water coming out of a hose and being played on the blazing building.

The display will be the highlight of the local observance of the Fourth of July holiday. In case of rain, the exhibition will be staged Friday at 9:30 p.m. at Memorial Stadium.

Wilson Rules Out Speedup In B52 Bomber Production

WASHINGTON, July 2 (AP)—Secretary of Defense Wilson today ruled out any new speedup in B52 bomber production, but said an extra 800 million dollars voted by Congress for warplanes will be used "when needed."

Dulles Sees Less Chance Of War

WASHINGTON, July 2 (AP)—Secretary of State Dulles says the chances of Russia starting a war are less than they were a year ago, although its economic capability to make war is greater.

Dulles signified the administration's intention to continue U.S. aid to Communist Yugoslavia despite Premier Tito's closer-ties visit to Russia. Dulles said Tito has a "passionate dedication" to his country's independence.

The secretary of state testified in closed session May 24 and June 13 before a House appropriations subcommittee considering the request of the administration for $4,900,000,000 for foreign aid. The committee made his testimony public today.

Dulles reported the Soviets, under their "new look" foreign policy emphasizing the nonmilitary approach, have put up about a billion dollars worth of foreign aid of their own in the last 18 months in the form of easy-term loans. He said 289 millions in Communist bloc aid went to Yugoslavia.

Dulles said, too, that the announced Russian plan to cut back its number of men in uniform by 1,200,000 would not reduce Russia's military potential but could help its economy.

"These men that may be moved to factories and farms are all persons who are highly trained," he said. "They could very quickly be brought back again. And the Soviet Union has not indicated any intention to do away with armaments that these men would use if they were called back."

However, Dulles drew a picture of encouragement from what he called "forces of liberalism" at work in Russia since Stalin's death.

Date For Nixon Trip

GETTYSBURG, Pa., July 2 (AP)—The temporary White House announced today that Vice President Nixon will fly to Formosa July 7 to visit Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek.

Recovery Of Bodies Now Underway

GRAND CANYON, Ariz., July 2 (AP)—Recovery operations and investigations began today at the grim scene of history's worst commercial air disaster—the death of all 128 persons aboard two airliners which presumably collided in flight.

A TWA Super Constellation and a United Air Lines DC7 smashed into jagged buttes less than a mile apart in the southeastern tip of the Grand Canyon.

Remains of some of the Constellation's victims were brought out in five large sacks just before noon.

The only way of reaching the mangled wreckage was by helicopter, and 30-knot winds developed in the canyon, making the air treacherously turbulent for light planes.

Uncertain

It was uncertain how many bodies could be recovered at any time. The first recovery crew described the site as "a mess" and said "there isn't much left."

2nd Lt. Philip S. Prince, USAF, who flew within 25 feet of the disintegrated DC7 said, "I don't think there were any bodies where we were. If there were, we couldn't see them."

The job of removing bodies, even from the more accessible peak into which the TWA plane crashed, is complicated by probably the most rugged terrain in the nation.

A National Park Service official said it would be impossible for mountain climbers to reach the United wreckage.

A big grease spot and bits of the DC7 are located on Chuar Butte about 2,500 feet above the Colorado River near its confluence with the Little Colorado.

Red Poland Slams Iron Curtain On Frontier

BERLIN, July 2 (AP)—Red Poland today slammed the Iron Curtain on the East German frontier to block rebel workers seeking to flee the terror of a Communist purge in Poznan.

Western travelers arriving from Poznan reported young Polish workers trying desperately to get through the Red security ring around the city in a westward break for freedom.

In Vienna a compilation of eyewitnesses estimates received by the dead from last week's three-day revolt at "close to 1,000."

This was far greater than the 200 to 600 estimate of Western businessmen arriving here and the figure announced by the Polish government of 48 killed and 270 wounded.

The Warsaw government ordered thousands of steel-helmeted troops and police to hunt refugees

Government Mediators To Meet With Steel Foes

PRR Drops 18,000 From Pay Roll

PHILADELPHIA, July 2 (AP)—The Pennsylvania Railroad today announced approximately 18,000 PRR workers will be laid off because of the steel strike.

James M. Symes, PRR president, said "extensive lay-offs" were decided on throughout the PRR system "to reduce expenses, partially offsetting the sudden drop in revenues which started affecting our business a week ago."

"The steel industry normally accounts for about 30 per cent of the Pennsylvania's business," Symes said. "Our immediate force reduction will be between 15 and 20 per cent. Each department has been instructed to reduce forces as far as possible without detriment to service or safety, and with the least practical delay to improvements in efficiency from programs already

Continue

Symes said the PRR's car building program will continue "as long as steel supplies on hand permit." On the other hand, he added, work on the new Conway Yard will have to be stopped.

The Reading Co. announced it expected to lay off 2,000 workers if the strike still is continuing July 17.

Rival Parties Enter Battle

WASHINGTON, July 2 (AP)—Senate Democrats tore into their Republican colleagues today for circulating what Sen. Sparkman (D-Ala.) called a "despicable smear sheet" saying the Communists want the Democrats to win this year's elections.

Sen. Neuberger (D-Ore.) touched off the assault with a Senate speech calling attention to a document which came out of the Senate Republican Policy Committee last week labeled a "Staff Memorandum." He quoted it as saying "the official Communist line is that 'the Republicans must be defeated and all support thrown to the Democrats.'"

Pitch

Other Democrats pitched into the attack although GOP leader Knowland of California sought to placate them by saying "in my judgment the senators on the Democratic side are patriotic."

Knowland said that as between the Republican and Democratic parties, "one is as loyal as the other."

Sen. H. Alexander Smith (R-NJ) told the Democrats he didn't like the document either.

Rabies Alert Follows Attack By Red Fox

BEL AIR, Md., July 2 (AP)—A rabies alert was sounded today in Maryland's Harford County and Pennsylvania's York County.

The alert was issued after rabies was discovered in a red fox which attacked a herd of cattle. The fox was killed last week by Dick Reynolds, a sawmill operator at Fawn Grove, Pa. Dr. Thomas W. Brown, veterinarian of Fawn Grove, sent the fox head to the Maryland Health Dept. at Bel Air where the rabies diagnosis was made.

First Report

Dr. Brown inoculated the herd attacked by the fox. He said this marked the first confirmed report of a rabid fox in Harford County. Previous reports had come from east of the Susquehanna River both in Pennsylvania and Maryland's Cecil County.

President Inks Defense Bill

GETTYSBURG, Pa., July 2 (AP)—Described as feeling stronger day by day, President Eisenhower signed the huge $34,656,727,000 defense appropriation bill today and okayed but complained about a public works measure.

The President put in his heaviest working session since his intestinal operation June 9—an hour with aides in which he signed 21 bills, vetoed two, nominated 48 postmasters and approved a proclamation. The White House press secretary James C. Hagerty told newsmen:

Rises

"The President this morning got up at about 7:30, and the doctors tell me that he is coming along fine, and that he told them this morning that he realizes he is feeling stronger and stronger each day."

Hagerty said Eisenhower is "eagerly looking forward one of these days" to some practice shots on the putting green on his country estate.

But does he feel up to running for a second term? There still is no clear cut answer on that, and no indication when there will be one.

When a reporter inquired whether Eisenhower's Feb. 29 announcement that he would try for another term had been rescinded, Hagerty replied:

"I haven't seen anything rescinded."

Then to the next question, whether he had seen anything that might reaffirm the announcement, Hagerty answered:

"I haven't any comments on any of those questions."

That seemed to leave the picture of uncertainty pretty much unchanged.

Increase

The big defense bill carried nearly a billion dollars more than Eisenhower wanted for the Air Force. Congress had insisted on upping the ante, regardless of hold-down pleas from the administration.

Hagerty said no, Eisenhower didn't have any comment when he signed the measure.

But Eisenhower sounded off in a formal statement about legislation appropriating $663,127,000 for the Tennessee Valley Authority, various Interior Department agencies and Army civil functions.

He said he is for "the wise conservation, development and use of the nation's water resources," but Congress had added $2 unneeded projects for the Army Engineer Corps committing the government to future appropriations of 1½ billion dollars.

This, he said, threw out of kilter a priorities system he said was intended to "achieve a proper balance between water resources development and other federal programs."

State Owes On Bridges

HARRISBURG, July 2 (AP)—Tolls collected on 10 bridges bought by the state seven years ago have equaled the purchase price but another two million dollars must be collected before the spans are freed.

The state Highways Dept. reported today that total tolls collected as of May 31 were $6,601,600. The original purchase price of the bridges was $4,444,823.

The additional two million covers interest on bonds, maintenance, collectors' salaries and insurance costs of the department.

In Full

They must be repaid in full, according to the law, before any of the bridges are freed of tolls.

The total outlay has been $10,392,888. The department will not estimate when the sum will be repaid but previous estimates on the freeing of the bridges were late this year or early next year.

The only three bridges which have not produced toll revenue equal to purchase price are the Market and Walnut Street bridges in Harrisburg and the Allentown Eighth Street span. The two Harrisburg bridges cost more than the other eight combined.

Fire Sweeps Through Homes

GIRARDVILLE, Pa., July 2 (AP)—Fire swept through two homes and damaged a third today, causing an estimated $25,000 damage.

An immediate probe of the cause of the fires was called for by local fire chiefs, who said the occupants of all three adjoining houses had been away several weeks and had left electricity disconnected.

Strike Sting Felt By Other Industries

PITTSBURGH, July 2 (AP)—The federal government today arranged separate meetings Thursday with steel industry and union leaders in an effort to revive contract negotiations in the 2-day-old steel strike.

The move came as railroads and other carriers largely dependent on steel industry business posted layoff notices affecting thousands of employees. They will be idle along with 650,000 United Steelworkers members for the duration of the walkout.

Joseph F. Finnegan, federal mediation service director, said he will meet in Pittsburgh with representatives of each side in the deadlock.

The meetings will be "exploratory in nature and for the purpose of discussing the real difference between the union and the industry representatives," Finnegan said.

The government action indicated plainly there is no hope for the negotiators to resume contract talks before the July Fourth holiday, Wednesday. Negotiations were broken off in New York Saturday night.

The union's basic steel members walked out at midnight Saturday, cutting off 80 per cent of the nation's steel production.

Schedule

Finnegan scheduled the meeting after holding telephone conversations with USW President David J. McDonald and John A. Stephens, vice president of U. S. Steel Corp., and chief industry negotiator.

Accompanying Finnegan will be Asst. Director Clyde Mills and special assistant Robert H. Moore. They will meet McDonald in the morning and Stephens in the afternoon.

The Baltimore and Ohio and Pennsylvania railroads were the first to post furlough notices.

The B. & O. scheduled layoffs for 5,000 workers for the duration of the strike. The Pennsylvania said its initial cutback will affect about 18,000.

The New York Central Railroad said it expects a "large number of layoffs" due to the strike. Other railroads were expected to take similar action.

Tied Up

Along the great inland water system, many tow boats and fish-laden steel hauling barges were tied up at their docks. There was no estimate of how many marine employees were affected.

Across the nation small groups of union pickets idled around steel mill gates. No disturbances were reported.

The union called the strike to back up demands for a new contract. The length of the agreement and the first year package value appeared to be the principal stumbling blocks.

The union, in the final week of prestrike bargaining, rejected an offer of a 52-month contract that industry officials said would have given workers an hourly package increase of 17 2-3 cents, including a 7.3 cent immediate wage hike. The workers were earning an hourly average of $2.46.

In Washington, AFL-CIO President George Meany said he had written McDonald a letter assuring "the fullest support of the entire labor movement."

Seeks Rate Boost

HARRISBURG, July 2 (AP)—The Public Utility Commission was asked today by the Pottsville Water Co. to authorize a $159,000 a year rate boost for 11,821 consumers in Schuylkill County.

Outdoor Factory Blooms At Hawley

HAWLEY — A quiet clearing deep in the woods near here has been turned into a bustling outdoor factory readying giant steel cylinders for a mile and a half north portion of the flow line that carries water from Pennsylvania Power & Light Company's Lake Wallenpaupack to its hydroelectric plant several miles away.

Chas. E. Oakes, PP&L president, and other top officials of the utility recently made an inspection trip of the project and found that it was moving ahead on schedule. More than 100 Bethlehem Steel Co. ironworkers and PP&L construction specialists were busy in an operation that includes fabrication of curved steel plates into 14-foot-in-diameter circular sections, and reconditioning of cradle-like supports for the new length of flow line.

Automatic welding machines are being used to join together the five plates that make up each of the 239 sections for the new portion of the line. The individual pieces are placed in a form that holds and turns them to facilitate welding until each section, weighing as much as 20 tons, is completed. Three of the mammoth sections, which dwarf a man, are being fabricated daily. A special camera, powered by atomic material, is used to detect any flaws that may occur during the welding process.

Shops
Adjacent to the fabricating center is a shop where hooded workmen sandblast each of the reusable supports that have held the old section of line for the more than 30 years of its life. After sandblasting, the supports are painted and placed back in position to begin their second stint of service. Through careful maintenance over the years, all but a few of the 700 supports are suitable for reconditioning. The supports and completed 32-to-40 foot sections are being moved to their proper place in the line over a small railroad built especially for this purpose in the path of the new flow line.

Each of the giant tubes has a specific place in the line and has from two to five supporting saddles, resting on concrete supports, depending upon its length and position in the snaking line. The huge tubes, in turn, will be hand welded together to form the new stretch of flow line. The atomic camera will again be used to check the strength of these welds. One of the most vital and intricate phases of the flow line operation is the bulkhead holding back a mile and a half of water that fills the section of the line which is not being replaced.

Sheriff's Deputies Wound Wanted Criminal In Ohio

WARREN, Ohio, July 2 (AP)—Sheriff's deputies today wounded and captured Alfred Wilson, accused slayer of three women.

Deputies said Wilson was critically wounded. He was taken to St. Joseph's hospital here, and hospital attaches reported he was "fading fast."

Wilson reportedly was in an automobile with a woman and a child when he was shot.

Further details were not immediately available.

Wilson, a stuttering, 37-year-old truck driver, went on a shooting spree 12 days ago after a split-up with his common-law wife.

Driving his car to the home of one of her two sisters, he shot and killed the sister. His wife and children, at the time were hiding in a locked bathroom in the house.

From there, Wilson sped to the home of the other sister and killed her.

Finally, he came upon a 16-year-old girl in his crazed flight. The girl was in a car with two boys. Sending the boys away, Wilson shot and killed the girl.

Since then, he has been the object of a widespread manhunt. Apparently Wilson never went beyond a few miles of the scenes of his crimes.

West Gains Strength In Poznan Revolt

FRANKFURT, Germany, July 2 (AP)—The West's hand in dealing with Russia has been strengthened by the bloody Poznan revolt—just at a time when it was needed most.

For months, neutralist voices have been heard in Western Europe clamoring for closer negotiations with the Russians. Millions have been wondering whether the Kremlin's smiles were not sincere, although Western leaders have doubted it.

In particular, West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer has been under pressure to waver from his rigid anti-Russian policies and his former cold war popularity has been gravely jeopardized.

But the heroic three-day Poznan insurrection—and its ruthless suppression by tanks and troops of the Russian-run Polish army—has stirred sympathy throughout the West. That sympathy has been heard not only from the masses of Westerners, but even from Communists like Giuseppe di Vittorio, head of the big Italian labor federation.

The reported shooting of marching children, the defection of Polish soldiers to the workers—these are bound to raise doubts that things have really changed behind the Iron Curtain.

For Germany, the Poznan revolt has even deeper significance in that the prospect of reunification of the divided country may have become more distant than ever before.

Moscow and the Red regime in Eastern Germany also must have been thrown upon the horns of a dilemma. There has been much talk that Moscow would loosen its grip on East Germany to encourage negotiations between the two parts of the country.

But will Moscow and the East German rulers dare follow such course now? Any great relaxation of existing terror rule might encourage the East Germans to try another revolt like that of June 17, 1953.

If there were a repetition of Berlin and Poznan, Moscow might be forced to shift its entire policy toward the German issue. The Kremlin might have to return openly to Stalin-type terror to keep the peace. This would upset the entire Khrushchev appeasement.

Poznan is sure to have major repercussions elsewhere than in Germany. Innerparty dispute and criticism is already growing among Communists as a consequence of the de-Stalinization campaign.

Sullivan Named Chairman Of Stroudsburg Parking Authority

Other Officers Also Named For Unit

DR. S. F. Sullivan yesterday was elected chairman of the Stroudsburg Parking Authority at an organizational session of the group, held in the Borough Council Chambers.

Other officers elected were Martin Baldwin, vice-chairman; Robert Davern, secretary and Robert Miller, treasurer. George R. Stoekel is the fifth member of the authority.

Solicitor

The group also elected Atty. George T. Robinson as its solicitor. Dr. Sullivan said the authority will contact several bonding houses to determine if they will finance any projects the group may approve.

The authority received its incorporation papers from the secretary of the Commonwealth.

Bangor Man Saves Life Of Child

OXFORD — Albert Godshalk, 23, of Bangor, RD 2, was credited with saving the life of his two-year-old nephew, Thomas C. Smith, who fell into a three-acre pond near his home in Oxford Sunday.

Sighting the youngster floundering in deep water, Godshalk swam to the spot to rescue the youngster.

Father

The boy's father, Charles S. Smith, heard Godshalk's shouts and ran to the bank in time to grab his child as Godshalk tossed him from the water to the bank.

Earl Ott, 25, of 624 Market St., Bangor, who was swimming nearby, applied artificial respiration to the unconscious child. Tommy was back on his feet by the time the Belvidere Ambulance Squad arrived.

Five New Members

BANGOR—Five new members have been accepted into membership in Bangor-Stroudsburg Local 577, American Federation of Musicians.

George Zonze, Louis Sigmund, both of Pen Argyl; Floyd Frisbie, East Stroudsburg; Manus Smith and Robert Kish, both of East Bangor, were accepted into membership at a meeting in the local headquarters here Sunday.

State

The local voted to join the Pennsylvania Federation of Labor Unions.

In other matters, Kenneth Brown, business agent, reported he has found musicians without union cards, orchestras without contracts and non-union orchestras playing throughout the area.

The local's home association held a meeting prior to the regular session.

1,079 Claim Illegally

HARRISBURG, July 2 (AP)—The Department of Labor and Industry said today 1,079 persons were convicted during the past year for attempting to claim unemployment compensation to which they were not entitled.

At the same time the department reported that over 3,000 claimants were disqualified a total of 11,000 weeks during the same period under tighter fraud-prevention provisions at the law passed by the 1955 Legislature.

Two Groups

"These two groups of claimants had received illegally over $350,000," said John R. Torquato, secretary of labor and industry.

"Of this total $250,000 has already been recovered and the remaining $100,000 is in the process of collection," he added.

Another 78,000 persons, the department said, were refused benefits because they did not meet the requirements of the law. Major causes of disqualification were listed as voluntary quitting of previous jobs, inability or non-availability for suitable work and employed persons filing for benefits.

"We are disqualifying pregnant women at better than 100 per month," Torquato declared.

Pregnant women, who previously had a blanket disqualification, can now receive benefits on the same basis as other workers.

DON'T ORDER ME AROUND, BUDDY—Although new-born David Michael Ironside will probably grow up with the proper respect for officialdom, yesterday he was having none of it at all. When Col. Robert Angster, commanding officer at Tobyhanna Depot, showed up to greet the new arrival—first baby ever born on Depot grounds—Pvt. David sounded off with a lusty raspberry as mom, Mrs. Patricia Ironside, proudly tried to shush him up.

First Baby Born In Depot Dispensary

IF ANYBODY wants to nominate a "Mr. Tobyhanna Signal Depot of 1956", it seems almost certain that David Michael Ironside will be it without argument.

David Michael came into the world yesterday morning with a double honor to his credit.

First—He was the first baby in history ever born in the Tobyhanna Signal Depot dispensary.

Second—He is probably the first newborn baby anywhere in the world whose name has ever been entered on the morning report of the military organization to which he "belongs" by proxy.

The Tobyhanna Depot dispensary, as its doctor and three nurses will hurriedly assure you, was never intended as a maternity ward. It has space for physical examinations, facilities for administration of medicine to depot employees and a sizeable First Aid department. And there the matter ought to end.

Until yesterday, things went along very smoothly. Dr. Donald J. Werner, the man in charge, kept right on mending slightly cut fingers, doling out aspirin for infrequent headaches, doing his best to keep sniffs and coughs down to a minimum.

Big Event

Then—at exactly 9:30 a.m.—in came Mrs. Patricia Ann Kearns Ironside. Mrs. Ironside lives in Cresco. She is the wife of Lt. Robert Ironside Jr., 25. Lt. Ironside is assistant to the chief stock control division at the Depot.

Yesterday Lt. Ironside was on duty, for the depot, at the New York Port of Embarkation. Confident in the fact that his wife's baby was not due for several more days, the lieutenant was going unconcerned about the Depot's business.

But at shortly after 9 a.m. Mrs. Ironside knew better. Because there wasn't time to get to the hospital, she thought, she called some friends. They took off for the Depot. And there she was, at 9:30, in the dispensary.

Dr. Werner went to work immediately. Time was short. As it turned out he had understated the case.

David Michael was born, healthy and hollering, 25 short minutes later—at 9:55 a.m.

Aided by the three nurses on duty, Dr. Werner had presided at a perfectly happy and normal birth, Depot officials said. Mother and son were both in fine shape and excellent spirits.

The baby weighed six pounds at birth. A call had been placed to the boy's father. He was trying to get back to the home base. But Depot officials transferred the mother and child to a waiting military ambulance.

The ambulance, fronted by a State police patrol car, took off for Valley Forge General Hospital. Lt. Ironside met his son there for the first time last night.

As a "gag," Depot officials put David Michael Ironside (a private, of course) on the "morning report"—daily calculation of officers and enlisted men assigned to RIGHT OUTTA THE TOP DRAWER—Young David Ironside is probably the first baby in history to end up with a desk drawer in a military establishment as his crib. Here, surrounded by soft blankets and pads, David M. views his environment with general calm. Looking on is Miss Teresa Puluka, Tobyhanna, head nurse in Depot dispensary.

Eight Members Of Jaycee Unit Receive 'Spark Plug' Honors

EIGHT MEMBERS OF THE Pocono Chapter, Junior Chamber of Commerce, have been awarded "Spark Plug Citations" by the national organizations for showing "outstanding leadership training" and their active interest and participation in chapter projects during the past year.

The honored Jaycees are Jack Coogan, Stanley Grace, Irving Karpe, Nevin R. Hummel, William Johnson, S. Jerome Rubin, Robert Widmer and Howard Popkin.

The selections were based on recommendations made to the national headquarters by the local chapter's board of directors.

The citations were signed by Rubin, immediate past president of the chapter, and by Ralph Peters, former state president.

Police Schedule Pays

NEW YORK, July 2 (AP)—Police Commissioner Stephen Kennedy says a policy of putting more policemen on the beats has paid off by a 16.5 per cent reduction in major crimes in New York City last year.

the Depot—yesterday morning. Said one official: "Bob's a West Point man. And since this first baby's a boy, it seems pretty likely he'll go to West Point, too. He's sure getting a nice send-off—who else could get promoted to private in the first couple of hours of his life."

Eisenhower Signs Flood Control Bill

GETTYSBURG, July 2 (AP)—President Eisenhower today signed a bill making available some 15 million dollars for flood control and navigation projects in Pennsylvania for the year which started July 1.

Included in the bill—the public workers appropriation bill—are these amounts for Pennsylvania:

Construction

Rear Creek Reservoir, Luzerne County, $2,250,000; Bradford, $1,500,000; Presque Isle Peninsula, Erie, $380,000; Prompton Reservoir, $350,000; Reynoldsville, $578,000; Stillwater Reservoir, Forest City, $600,000; Dyberry Reservoir, Honesdale, $600,000, and Swoyersville—Forty Fort, $625,000.

To begin dredging the Delaware River channel between Philadelphia and Trenton to a 35-foot depth, $6,000,000; to complete dredging the Marcus Hook and Mantua Anchorage in the Delaware River near Philadelphia, $1,000,000; a comprehensive survey of the Delaware River area, $500,000.

Planning Funds

Allegheny River Reservoir near Warren, $384,000; Allentown, $70,000; Bethlehem, $90,000, and Kettle Creek Dam on the West branch of the Susquehanna River, $95,000.

Projects outside Pennsylvania in which Western Pennsylvanians are particularly interested:

New Cumberland Locks and Dam, Ohio River, eight million dollars, and Hildebrand Lock and Dam, Monongahela River, 3½ million dollars.

Wind Gap To Change Timing Cycle

WIND GAP—Borough Council met last night with officials of the State Highway Department and decided to again change the timing cycle on traffic light signals in the borough.

A borough official said after the meeting that the devices will now be set at 75 seconds for north and southbound traffic on Routes 12 and 115, and at 18 seconds for east and westbound traffic.

Hand Operated

Moreover, the lights will be hand operated during the peak hours, he said.

The spokesman added that borough officials are prepared to try some other schedule if the new one does not prove feasible.

The borough and state officials are seeking to speed up the flow of traffic through the borough, and avoid congestion during the vacation season.

Daily Record Writer To Appear In Shakespeare Role

DAILY RECORD DRAMA reviewer Leonard Randolph has been cast in the role of "Iago" in the forthcoming production of Shakespeare's "Othello" at Bushkill Summer Theater.

In announcing Randolph's selection for the role last night, Mrs. Edith O'Hara, producer of the play, noted also that "this is the first time a Summer theater in this area has undertaken the production of a Shakespearean play."

Mrs. O'Hara pointed out that "Shakespeare really does have popular appeal."

Not "Highbrow"

"Shakespeare's plays are not 'highbrow.'" This is especially true of "Othello," one of the finest dramas to come from Shakespeare's mind and sensitive writing skill. It is a play with a clean, neat plot outline, almost totally lacking in the esoteric political complexities of some of the other plays," Mrs. O'Hara said.

Randolph will appear in one of the play's three key roles. As "Iago" he will be undertaking one of the most challenging dramatic parts in the theater, Mrs. O'Hara noted.

He has been drama editor of The Daily Record since 1951. He has previously appeared in community theater productions in his native Iowa. For four years he produced, wrote and directed an occasional drama series for radio in Des Moines, Iowa. He was also heard each week in a half-hour program of reading from the Bible.

In addition to his work for this newspaper he has read from Shakespeare for classes and seminars in local high schools. He is a poet whose work has been published in Accent, University of Kansas City Review, Epos and other quarterly literary magazines.

Harold L. Kregger, 24-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry J. Kregger, of Crescoville, has been promoted to the rank of corporal in the US Army.

Cpl. Kregger recently was graduated by the Non-commissioned Officer Academy of the 10th Division, 85th Regiment, First Battalion, with which he is presently serving in Bamberg, Germany.

Polk High

Cpl. Kregger was graduated by Polk Township High School in 1949. He and his wife, Gloria J. Kregger, are the parents of a year-old daughter, Sherry Lee. He entered the Army on May 2, 1955, and arrived overseas last Nov. 17.

Slight Damage In Accident

SLIGHT DAMAGE was caused to two cars involved in an accident at the intersection of Seventh and Ann Sts., in Stroudsburg, late Sunday night.

Borough Police identified the motorists involved as Louis Strausser, 20, Star Route, Gouldsboro, and Paul A. Higgins, 56, of Scranton. Both escaped injury.

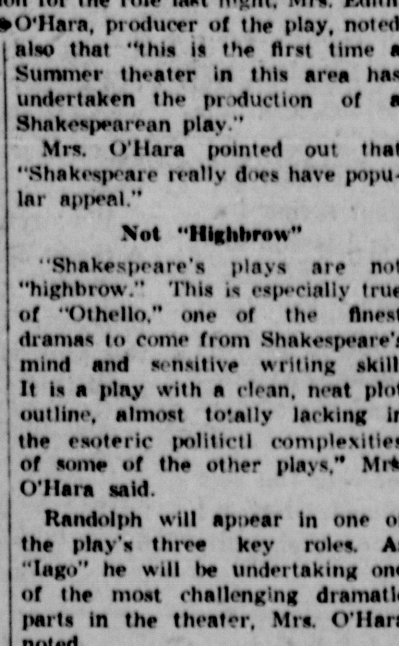

Intersection

Strausser was going south on Seventh St. when he approached the Ann St. intersection and ran into the right rear fender of Higgins' 1950 sedan traveling west on Ann St., police said.

Damage to Strausser's 1949 sedan was estimated at $35, while damage to the other auto was pegged at $65.

Harriman Makes Attack

CAVALIER, N. D., July 2 (AP)—Gov. Averell Harriman came into a predominantly Republican sector of North Dakota today to deliver another blistering personal attack on President Eisenhower for what he called the "Eisenhower farm depression."

Car Runs Into Truck

ABOUT $1,100 damage was caused to a 1955 sedan which crashed into the rear of a tractor-trailer at the bottom of Foxtown Hill at 12:30 a.m. yesterday.

Stroudsburg Police said the car, operated by A. Rizzolo, 40, Newark, N. J., was traveling south on Route 611 during a rainstorm, when it ran into the rear of the heavy truck driven by Warren T. Semman, 34, of Factoryville RD2. Police said the truck apparently was not damaged.

Neither driver was injured.

Bangor To Make Study Of Sewage Plant

BANGOR—Borough Council last night agreed to make a trip to Nazareth on Tuesday, July 10, to study that borough's sewage disposal plant.

Council took this action after hearing a report from Borough Solicitor J. Lawrence Davis relative to a recent hearing before the State Sanitary Water Board in Harrisburg, at which time borough officials were ordered to explain why their community had not proceeded with installation of a sewage system.

Arrangements were made for the tour of the Nazareth plant with George Neisser, superintendent, by Davis and the council.

Request

In other action, council voted to request that the sale of lots of the old Bangor Park property, scheduled for this Saturday, be postponed until the Fall. Some councilmen pointed out that some prospective bidders may not be able to attend because of vacations.

Judge William A. Frack of Northampton Court will make final decision on the matter.

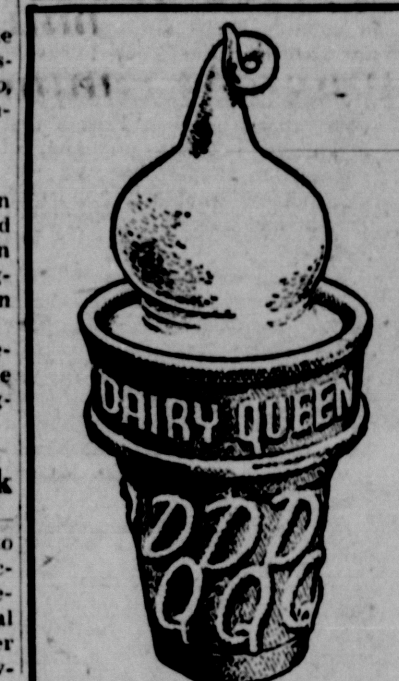

Council also rejected the unopened bid of Buzzard Electric Co., Bangor, to install a traffic signal light at the intersection of Eighth and Market Sts. Council indicated it wished to clarify its specifications and readvertise for bids for this job.

New Jersey Pair Arrested

CAMDEN, N. J., July 2 (AP)—Two New Jersey men today were held in $1,000 bail each by municipal judge Anthony Marino on charges of taking part in two burglaries in Hatfield Twp., Montgomery County, Pa.

They are Richard F. Brady, 22, Camden, and Norman W. Gardner, 22, of Glendora, N.J. They will have further hearings July 23.

Dont' Become July Fourth Casualty; Drive Carefully, Obey Traffic Laws

In 1903 there were 466 fireworks deaths in the United States. Last year there was only one. Quite a record of progress.

Back in 1903 a rather ridiculous looking machine was just sputtering into being. Last year that machine—evolving from the ungainly horseless carriage into the sleek and powerful modern automobile—claimed 407 lives during the Fourth of July holiday.

Thus the net gain in our efforts to avoid holiday self-destruction seems to be about zero. Yet there is a lesson to be learned here.

Fireworks deaths on the Fourth have been almost eliminated because thinking persons revolted at such senseless killing, and state by state prohibited the sale and use of dangerous fireworks.

No one, of course, is advocating the sale or use of automobiles be banned. But we strongly urge the outlawing of their misuse.

Most people want to use their cars safely. But in every society there is always a minority of reckless and irresponsible drivers who turn a deaf ear to all appeals for prudent and common sense behavior.

It is for this group that the National Safety Council and the International Association of Chiefs of Police have jointly recommended a rigid law enforcement policy by all police agencies during the Fourth of July celebration.

We strongly support this recommendation. A traffic accident emergency faces this country, with a new all-time high death toll in prospect. It is time to stop temporizing with this problem. The Fourth of July holiday is a good time to start getting tough.

And to all motorists traveling highways in the Pocono Mountains we add this bit of advice: drive safely, obey the traffic laws, don't take unnecessary chances and don't drive if you're drinking.

Colleges Could Make Greater Use Of Available Talent, Facilities

If we are to provide college training for all those who will be seeking it in the next 10 years, the nation will need larger campuses as well as more teachers.

But the situation also can be helped by now available outside the colleges and universities.

The University of Virginia is engaged in a program which, though primarily aimed at adult training, seems to be worth studying as part of the over-all higher education scheme.

It is undertaking to establish a state-wide network of adult evening classes, using public school buildings or other suitable quarters, and employing qualified teachers who live in the community as well as its own staff members.

"Going away to college" is a worthwhile experience. But the expense is a heavy burden—sometimes impossible—for the families of many young people who want a college education.

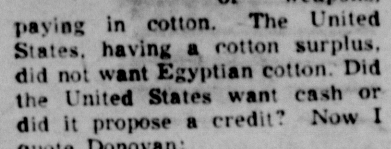

Nowadays, only those who live in or near cities and towns which have colleges can go to college while living at home. The result is that a large proportion of our bright young people do not go to college at all.

All the resources this nation has been blessed with may be worth little if we waste the most valuable—our supply of good minds ready to be trained.

George Sokolsky Says...

Eisenhower Misinformed On Mid-East Deal Which Gave Russians Tremendous Victory

Robert J. Donovan who has written a pro-Eisenhower book entitled "Eisenhower — The Inside Story," recounts the following with regard to the Nasser-Soviet transaction. Nasser first tried to deal with the United States, desiring to buy $30,000,000 of weapons.

paying in cotton. The United States, having a cotton surplus, did not want Egyptian cotton. Did the United States want cash or did it propose a credit? Now I quote Donovan:

"... Nasser then suggested buying the arms on credit. Washington was slow in reaching final policy decisions in the matter, and Egypt dropped it.

"In the following month, June (1955), the Administration got word that Nasser was having discussions with the Soviet Union about buying arms. Next—before the 'summit conference' in July—American Ambassador Byrnes received word from high sources in the Egyptian government that the talks with Russia had been discontinued. So Eisenhower did not bring it up at the Geneva Conference. But in September, the Soviet-Egyptian arms deal was sealed."

The significance of Donovan's report is that the White House did not have what is called "intelligence" on this subject. Our ambassador in Egypt, Henry Byrnes, apparently permitted himself to be misinformed by the Egyptians as he had been misinformed by Chinese when he was in that country with General George Marshall. The information from Byrnes which reached the White House, if Donovan's account, bearing all the earmarks of an approved book, is correct, was misleading. One reason that a country keeps an ambassador in a foreign country is to know what is going on. Ambassador Byrnes did not know in July that the conference between Russia and Egypt were going on and, of course, in September all the world knew what had happened. Russia had scored a tremendous victory.

A nation without information is blind. Surely President Eisenhower at Geneva should have known of the Nasser-Soviet deal; otherwise, the Russians had an advantage over him of enormous value to them. Khrushchev must have been astonished that Eisenhower did not know what Nasser was up to.

In March, 1956, Eisenhower said:

"We do not believe that it is possible to assure peace in that area (the Middle East) merely by rushing some arms to a nation (Israel) that can absorb only that amount which 1,700,000 people can absorb; whereas, on the other side, there are some 40,000,000 people."

The absurdity of that statement is now obvious to everyone. If we sell Israel arms are we to make sure that the Arabs have 40 times as much? The alliance of Egypt, Saudi Arabia and Syria, with enormous influences upon Jordan and Yemen and other Arab states, including Morocco and Algeria, gives Soviet Russia a foothold in the Mediterranean which is as important as a tremendous military victory. Already the very important American air base in Morocco is in peril and our enormous investments in Saudi Arabia need to be reviewed.

Israel is hardly a factor in this situation. Israel may be the Arabs' excuse for being quarrelsome, but what is clear is that the Arabs are concluding that they can, at this stage, get more out of Russia than they can out of the United States and they are acting accordingly. Their principal interest is to use both Russia and the United States to their advantage.

To Nasser, this situation opens the prospect of building a career that makes him at least of equal importance in international relations to Nehru and Tito. If not of greater importance in due course. Therefore, it is absurd to make a comparison of 1,700,000 people to 40,000,000 people. If that is the basis of our thinking, why knuckle under to Red China which has a population of 500,000,000 people?

The answer is that whoever briefed the President on the Middle Eastern situation gave him a wrong steer. Whoever put those statistics before the President was using a trick argument to support a private opinion, not the national interest. This has happened so often that it is astonishing that Congress does not investigate.

What is the national interest? The answer must depend upon whether one believes that the expenditure of $50,000,000 to purchase friendship could ever have succeeded. As of June 1956, this policy shows many signs of having proved to have been a failure. Nevertheless, Congress is voting more money. Certainly this phase of American policy requires re-thinking and review.

Fairly Spoken By MARGARET LATROBE Expert Says Happy Feet Can Ensure Happy Faces

Seems to me it was Joan Crawford who once remarked that it was permissible for a girl to say, "My foot hurts." But never—"My feet hurt!"

The strange thing is that a single tootsie causing discomfort will get the full treatment—hot compresses, bandages, re-elevated on footstool. But a pair of offenders is considered merely the price of walking when you might better have taken the bus. They ache and smart and sting, and nobody does a single thing because by that time a jolly backache has set in which kind of takes your mind off your feet.

An expert corrective-shoe-fitter tells me many of the aching backs plaguing the populace begin in the corn-plaster territory. "If everyone wore perfectly fitting shoes through adolescence," he said, "I would be out of business." His glance fell not unkindly on a row of white plaster molds resplendent with bunions, corns, misshapen toes and distorted metatarsals.

He picked up another mold, placing it beside one of the scary ones. It was a beautiful foot, smooth as a baby's with fine straight toes and not a hump or a bump. "This is the same foot two years after I made a corrective shoe for the patient."

The only trouble with this expert's stock in trade? His shoes may be the earthly means of flying but they are hideous to behold. After all, what's a little old corn between friends, when correction brings such atrocious wounds to pride?

"Well," he grinned, "that's just silly. No one looks at a foot when they can look at a bright happy face instead. A happy face means happy feet. Show me a sourpuss and I'll show you a painful arch, ingrown nails or a back ache caused by the wrong shoes!"

"We fitted an actress," he recalled. "A hot-tempered one. When I brought her specially made shoes out of the box she took one look and threw them clear 'cross the room. You see that steam pipe yonder?" The lady had aimed well.

The sequel to this episode (and otherwise he would never have told it) is that this lady's subsequent orders in all colors have kept him rosily affluent.

Try and Stop Me —by Benet Cerf

According to children in Amherst, Mass., Edward Dickinson, father of the famous poetess, Emily, once brought half the town's population on the double to the town square by ringing the big fire bell. "Where's the fire?" cried everybody.

When the flying squirrel extends its arms forward and out and its hind legs backward for gliding, its body takes on almost a square form.

Mr. Dickinson pointed silently to a magnificent sunset in the western sky. He just wanted everybody he knew to share his appreciation of the effect.

An optimist, cited by David Green, is the general in Caesar's army who, when forced to flee before Vandal hordes, sent this report to headquarters: "According to preconcived plan, we have proceeded to a point of vantage which lay eighty miles behind us." ... Sounds somewhat modern at that!

"Beg pardon," said the man at the door, "but would you care to contribute something to the Home for Hopeless Alcoholics?" "You bet," replied the home-maker promptly. "Come back about midnight and you can have my husband."

Dag To Propose Moscow Okay Big Four Conference

Washington, July 2 — Keep an eye on those soft-pedaled talks getting under way between Secretary General Dag Hammarskjöld and the Kremlin czars. The United Nations director's trip to Moscow is far more momentous than the attention being generally given it, and infinitely more important than recent fanfare visitsations there.

For what Hammarskjöld is really doing on this mission, his first behind the Iron Curtain, is to put up to the Soviet rulers a series of concrete proposals that could have historic impact on the war-threatened Middle East and on the only a little less explosive Far East. He is doing this with the "informal" consent of Washington, London and Paris.

Foremost among Hammarskjöld's proposals is the convening of another Big Four foreign ministers conference.

The last one was in Geneva, following the "summit" parley attended by President Eisenhower. Despite the glowing promise of that meeting, the foreign ministers conference was a flop. Molotov, recently ousted as Foreign Minister, was unyielding on all issues.

In addition to sounding out the Russians on a new foreign ministers conference late this year or early in 1957, the UN Secretary General will also proposition them on the following:

Halting arms shipments to Egypt and the other Arab countries.

Joining the U. S., Britain and France in a United Nations move for a permanent solution of the long-festering and highly explosive Arab-Israeli dispute.

Prevailing on Red China to release all Americans still imprisoned there; including the 13 serving long sentences as "spies."

Following Hammarskjöld's discussions in Moscow, he plans to make three other significant visits that will be closely followed by East and West chancelleries.

The first stop on this unannounced schedule is Prague. He has in mind holding a press conference in the Czechoslovakian capital. But whether that comes off remains to be seen. It is, does, world-wide headlines could result.

Next Hammarskjöld intends to go to Belgrade for talks with Marshal Tito, particularly on his views for easing East-West tensions.

The third potentially-eventful visit will be to Geneva. Hammarskjöld is going there to offer his help to avert a breakdown of the year-long negotiating between the U. S. and Red China.

For this purpose, he will confer with Ambassador U. Alexis Johnson and Ambassador Wan Ping Nan.

These meetings will take place with the full knowledge of both the State Department and Peking. They were advised of Hammarskjöld's plan before he left New York for Moscow.

Note: The UN Secretary General has agreed to visit Chile in September. This will be his first trip to South America, and other countries will be included.

What he thinks — The postponement of Premier Nehru's visit to Washington is not keeping President Eisenhower from getting a careful account of the Indian leader's views.

A detailed report on them has been cabled the President as the result of a unique effort by the U. S. embassy in India and Nehru's close assistants there. This cooperative effort has produced an unusual substitute for Nehru's delayed talks with the President.

The report pictures the Indian Leader as wanting to talk to the President particularly about two far-reaching ideas:

That the U. S. and Russia pool their resources for the development of backward countries.

That West and East Germany to negotiate directly on unification.

It is Nehru's belief that these two plans would greatly relieve East-West tensions and ensure the solving of explosive problems throughout the world, such as the war threat in the Middle East.

Following are highlights of this significant cable from New Delhi:

"The Soviet Union has been accused of playing power politics in the inflamed Middle East. That accusation is just, but the West has no right to fling stones on this point. . . . Instead of hurling accusations at each other, the great powers should make an earnest effort to achieve power politics, to give up stockpiling armaments, particularly nuclear, and pool their resources for the development of backward regions."

West and East Germans are increasingly coming to the view that it is for them to directly discuss and come to terms on unification. . . . Despite all the disagreement between the West and East on this issue, the unification of Germany may well be achieved by the Germans themselves regardless of the great power blocs. . . . As regards Korea and Vietnam, unity, however desirable, would seem to be ruled out by cold war politics for

Rev. Walz Returns To Native Area

By Jim Riley

Rev. Frances Walz, pastor of the Bethesda Baptist Church, Philadelphia, and family are currently living at the Minisk House, Minisk Hills.

Veteran residents of Monroe County will remember Rev. Walz when he was pastor of the Tannersville Methodist charge 22 years ago.

Rev. Walz, who is a native of Brodheadsville, is spending several days vacationing with his family.

Mrs. Walz and daughter are running the Minisk House for the Summer.

Helen Marie and Ralph Knaut, both well known in the area teaching profession, are currently building a home in the Mount Zion district.

Ralph is principal of the Clearview School.

The Knauts are residents of Tannersville at the present time.

Bill Walker, an employee of Hughes Printing Co., plans to move into a new home on Fritz Ave., Arlington Heights, in a couple weeks.

The Bittermans visited Cadiz, O., where they saw the "Mountaineer" at work.

The "Mountaineer" is the world's largest shovel and is used for "strip" mining.

The shovel's operating range is longer than a football field and the dipper will hold two automobiles. The "Mountaineer" was constructed at a cost of $2,600,000.

Hamlen Earns Laurels For Air Work

A PLAQUE for meritorious service during last Summer's disaster has been presented to Mr. and Mrs. Harold T. Hamlen, proprietors of Hamlen's Flying Service in East Stroudsburg.

The plaque was presented on June 30th by John (Red) McFarlane, chief inspector of the Pennsylvania Aeronautical Commission, at a banquet sponsored by the Tri-County Pilots Association at the Hotel Redington in Wilkes-Barre.

The honor was conferred on the Hamlens for keeping their airport open 24 hours a day. This action made it possible to fly medical aid, personnel and necessary items into disaster areas.

Some 250 persons attended the association's first annual banquet, at which McFarlane was the main speaker. Aviation inspector Edward McGroarty was also a special guest.

Music was played by Lee Vincent and his orchestra, while other entertainment was furnished by Tony Grant, Jr.

Guests came from Mount Carmel, Honesdale, Stroudsburg, Harrisburg, York, Bloomsburg, Hazleton, Gordon and Clarks Summit.

Steel Shutdown Strikes Home

NEW YORK, July 2 (AP) — The shutdown in the nation's steel industry today reached into the household of President David J. McDonald of the United Steel Workers.

McDonald said his 17-year-old son, David Jr., had taken a summer job with the Jessup Steel Corp. in Washington, Pa., and walked out with fellow union members at midnight.

Employment Figures Show Area Increase

NON-AGRICULTURAL employment in the Monroe-Pike County area was estimated at 16,580 as of May 15 in the monthly labor market letter of the Pennsylvania State Employment Service.

John P. Dougherty, manager of the East Stroudsburg PSES office, said this is an increase of 3,080 over that reported as of mid-March and is 580 more than that reported for May a year ago.

Scattered losses in the apparel and machinery industries were overcome by gains in most local non-manufacturing industries. The service and construction industries contributed most to the employment gains.

A labor dispute in the light metal industry accounted for some 750 being idled on June 1, and adversely affected local retail trades. There were 22 percent fewer unemployment compensation claims filed during April and May, 1956 than were filed during the same months a year ago.

Expectation

Manufacturing employment is expected to decline to last year's level during June and most of July as seasonal layoffs will continue in the apparel, leather products, and machinery industries. Recalls in the apparel industry, however, are expected by mid-July. Additional developments on the favorable side include plans for a new firm in the plastic field to start production by late July, and an appreciable summer expansion in the construction industry. The construction of several large buildings together with the work entailed in repairing highways and bridges will push employment in those fields beyond the level of last year.

Labor demands increased during the past two months. The local office received 834 job openings during April and May as compared to 352 openings during February and March. Jobs in the resort industry represented the major factor in the increase.

Demand for waiters and waitresses, cooks and chambermaids, as in the past years, exceeds the local supply.

National Safety Council Calls For Traffic Patrol

CHICAGO, July 2 — With the nation facing an all-time high traffic death record this year, two leading traffic safety organizations today called for a crack-down enforcement policy during the Fourth of July holiday.

The National Safety Council and the International Association of Chiefs of Police said that appeals to driver responsibility must be supplemented by strict enforcement of the law to curb the heedless and reckless minority.

Such action is the only effective way to hold down the death toll on an immediate and short-term basis, the two traffic safety groups agreed.

The joint enforcement recommendations for the 30-hour Fourth of July period were:

Recommendations
1. Cancel all days off for police and put every available officer on duty. Assign as many personnel as possible in plain clothes and unmarked cars to traffic patrol, especially from 6 p.m. to midnight today and tomorrow.

2. Concentrate manpower on high volume or high speed streets and highways where serious accidents are most likely to occur.

3. Concentrate on hazardous moving violations, especially speeding. Be alert for erratic driving and other evidence of evening-hour driving after drinking.

4. Coordinate the effort with other enforcement agencies.

5. Use whatever other enforcement means are available locally, such as radar.

6. Publicize the program in advance so motorists will understand and cooperate with the objective.

Estimation
The Council estimates that there will be 50 million vehicles on the move during the holiday. Usually extra travel means extra hazard.

America—He Loves You!

Maybe he thought of it first in the cornfields of Iowa or Illinois or Indiana.

Maybe along a Mississippi delta or in a street canyon of New York or Boston or Philadelphia.

Maybe it came to him on a pony's back in Oklahoma or New Mexico—or on the sun-hot seat of a combine in Kansas or Nebraska.

Maybe it was deep in the heart of Texas or on a trail in the High Sierras.

Wherever he may have been when the thought came to him is unimportant.

But the thought itself is of the essence: This is America—the land of freedom and opportunity—where a boy can grow up to be his own man.

And so on this anniversary of American Independence, we greet and congratulate him—the man of commerce, the lawyer, the physician, the rancher, the banker, the actor, the politician, the statesman—the self-made man of accomplishment in every line of human endeavor.

We know him well—and along with our congratulations on his success, we should like to register our own sense of gratitude.

For such are the owners of Cadillacs—the men whose approval created the "Standard of the World" and made it a symbol wherever highways lead.

It is a rare privilege to know these men—to sell them their cars—and to render them the type of service they deserve.

We feel it is appropriate to acknowledge it, most gratefully, on this occasion when Americans do honor to their great nation and its unparalleled freedom of personal opportunity.

PRIMER FOR AMERICANS

COPYRIGHT 1956,
SIGURD S. LARSON

You live in the United States of America. You are an American.

Real Americans like their country. They are proud of it. They think it is a good place to live. And they want to keep it good—to keep it getting better and better all the time.

Why is America the way it is? What makes it a good place to live? The answer is simply this:

Throughout our history most Americans have believed that every person has certain rights and duties and responsibilities.

Americans have believed that there are certain things that people should do, and other things they should not do.

They have also believed in certain things that people are, and are not.

These things that people believe are called principles. This book is an attempt to state the Principles of America in simple, primer fashion so that you can understand them, learn them, and remember them.

This is important. It was because earlier Americans believed in these principles and guided their lives by them, that America has grown to be the good place it is.

If all of us learn and remember these principles—if we also guide our lives by them—then we can help to keep America growing better, and better, and better.

And if we follow these Principles of America, we can help make the world a better place to live in, too.

The Principles of America are these . . .

1. Each Person is of Importance and Value as an Individual.

This is the cornerstone . . . the foundation of all our other beliefs in a person's right to live his own life, to speak for himself, to choose and change his leaders.

From it comes our hatred of those "isms" under which the individual has no value or importance as a person, but is only one of many unimportant people who have to live the way their leaders tell them to.

Coming directly from that first principle are two other principles that are also part of the foundation of Americanism.

2. We Believe that All Men should Enjoy Personal Freedom.

3. We Believe that All Men are Created Equal.

It is worth noting that the Declaration of Independence expressed the belief that "all men are created equal." It did not state or imply a belief that men develop equally or have equal ability, or that they should ever be forced to an exact equality of thought, speech or material possessions.

That would be equality without freedom. Americans have always believed the two should go together.

From the days of the Declaration of Independence and the writing of the Constitution, Americans have known that even though Life, Liberty, and other unalienable rights are granted to man by his Creator, they require some protection by man himself.

So, in our Constitution, and in other laws of our land, there are set down principles to protect the rights and freedoms and equality of individuals. And these principles play an important part in keeping America a good place in which to live.

4. The Right to Freedom of Speech.

This includes freedom of the press, of radio, of motion pictures, of every means by which man may express his thoughts on any subject.

5. The Right to Freedom of Assembly.

As we believe in the right of individual action, so we believe that individuals should be free to act together for the benefit of all. This is Democracy.

6. The Right to Freedom of Worship.

Not only is the individual free to worship as he will, but religions themselves are free and equal . . . regardless of their size or their beliefs.

7. The Right to Security of Person and Property.

Not just one, but three Amendments to the Constitution (4th, 5th and 14th) protect against illegal search and seizure, or loss of life, liberty, or property, without "due process of law."

8. The Right to Equal Protection before the Law.

As individuals are equally important, so laws must apply equally to all, without special privileges for any particular individuals or groups.

9. The Right to Freedom from Slavery.

This includes "the right to quit," for no individual may be forced to work for another.

10. The Right to Petition the Government.

The legally guaranteed right of the individual to "petition the government for redress of grievances" is evidence of the American belief that government is the servant, not the master, of the people.

11. The Right to Vote for people of your choice.

This is the individual's most potent weapon in the protection of his rights and freedoms . . . a weapon that to be effective must be constantly and wisely used.

The Principles of America hold that every man has . . .

12. The Right to a Good Education.

13. The Right to Live where he pleases.

14. The Right to Work where he wants to.

15. The Right to Join and Belong to an Organization.

16. The Right to Own Property.

17. The Right to Start his Own Business.

18. The Right to Manage his Own Affairs.

19. The Right to Make a Profit or to Fail, depending on his Own Ability.

There are other, similar rights of individual action which are Principles of America, but all of these individual rights may be combined in these two broad principles . . .

20. Every Man is entitled to Freedom and Equality of Opportunity.

21. Every Man may Earn his Living When, Where, and How he wants to.

There are also Limiting Principles . . .

Principles of individual freedom sometimes clash with those of individual equality. Therefore our rights as individuals must be limited, and those limitations are themselves principles.

22. The Rights of any Individual shall not Interfere with the Equal Rights of Other Individuals.

Your right to swing your arms stops where the other fellow's nose starts.

23. The Rights of any Individual shall not Interfere with the Welfare of the People as a Whole.

Freedom of speech does not give the individual the right to shout "fire" in a crowded theatre.

24. Every Individual owes Obedience to the Laws under which he Lives.

The individual has the right to talk against a law, to work and vote to change that law, but NOT to disobey that law.

Principles that are Patterns of Behavior . . .

Many of our principles of individual freedom and equality are guaranteed to us by law.

But we have other beliefs, other general rules of action and conduct that have grown to the status of principles. They have stood the test of time. They have worked. They have become a basic part of the way we live and of the way we look at things.

These principles, too, are foundations of Americanism. They are as true, if not more true, today than they were in 1850 or in 1750.

If America stays free, they will still hold true in 2050.

25. Every Man shall be Judged by his Own Record.

A man's family background, his race or his religion, is not as important as what that man himself can do, for Americans believe a man must stand on his own feet.

26. Every Man is Free to Achieve as much as he can.

We believe that where any boy may become President, where any man may achieve greatness, there is the greatest incentive for every man to do his best.

27. To Achieve anything, a Man should be Willing to Work.

Americans have always known that "you don't get something for nothing," that to get anything takes a willingness to work and to work hard.

28. Achievement also Depends upon the Ability to do a Good Job.

Add to "willingness to work" the ability to produce results and the combination is the basis for most individual achievement in our country.

29. Every Man has the Right to a Fair Share of the Results of his Work and his Ability.

Because of this belief, America has not only produced more goods, but they have been more fairly and more widely shared by more people than in any other country.

30. Security is the Ability of a Man to Provide for himself.

The only true security for any individual is the opportunity, the ability, and the determination to work and plan and save for his own present and future. Self-reliance is vital to individual independence and personal freedom. No man can be "proud and free" who depends on others for his security.

31. When an Individual cannot Provide his own Security, the Responsibility should be Assumed by Others.

We believe that no one should starve, or be without adequate clothing and shelter, so those who have more than their basic needs share the responsibility of providing the essentials of security for those who need help.

Printed as a Public Service by

The Daily Record

32. Every Individual must Deal Fairly with other Individuals.

Honesty, fairness, and personal integrity are virtues that help free and independent individuals get along with each other without losing their independence.

33. Fair and Free Competition is a Good Thing.

Americans have always believed that competition among individuals or groups encourages greater effort which in turn brings greater benefits to all.

34. Cooperation among Individuals is Vitaly Important.

PRESIDENT EISENHOWER has said: "The freedom to compete vigorously accompanied by a readiness to cooperate wholeheartedly for the performance of community and national functions, together make our system the most productive on earth."

Principles of Individual Responsibility . . .

Freedom for individuals carries with it an equal responsibility to use that freedom wisely. Therefore, if we wish to remain free, we must faithfully fulfill our responsibilities as free men.

35. The Individual is Responsible for himself and his Family.

He must protect them and provide for their present and future well-being.

36. The Individual has Responsibilities to the Groups of which he is a Part.

He must give of his best to his community, his church, his employer, his union, and to every group in which individuals cooperate for their mutual benefit.

37. The Individual has Responsibilities to his Country.

He must be an active citizen, interesting himself in local, state, and national government, voting wisely, thinking and speaking and acting to preserve and strengthen freedom, equality and opportunity for every individual.

38. The Individual has Responsibilities to the World.

Man's horizons have expanded. What happens in the world affects him, and his actions can affect the world. Today, therefore, each man has a responsibility to act—and to encourage his country to act—so that freedom and cooperation will be encouraged among the people and the nations of the world.

For America's Future

Most of us are still confident of ourselves and of our country. We do not claim perfection. But we have faith in our ability to move forward, to improve, to grow, to provide more and more individuals with more and more of everything they want and need in life . . .

If we, the people of the United States, want to have more material benefits, we must believe in and follow these two principles:

39. The only way we can Have More is to Produce More; and

40. As we Produce More, we must make it possible for More and More People to Enjoy that which we Produce.

If we, the people of the United States, want to have a better life, spiritually as well as materially . . .

41. We must stand firmly for our Beliefs, our Rights, our Principles.

WALT WHITMAN, writing nearly 100 years ago, put it this way:

"There is no week, nor day, nor hour when tyranny may not enter upon this country if the people lose their supreme confidence in themselves . . ."

There are those who would chip away our confidence so that their special brand of tyranny might creep into America. They must not succeed. So, let us ask of every plan, or act, or idea . . .

Is it With or Against the Principles of America?

IT IS MOST CONFUSING this year trying to decide which will be the Fourth of July weekend. Next weekend seems to have been decided upon. Nevertheless, the Fourth has not been changed and since there is no paper Wednesday we had better look at Wednesday's programs today as well.

Starting the mid-week weekend tonight, several new programs will appear. At 9, "Sneak Preview" will replace the "Fireside Theater" on Channels 3 and 4 with "Just Plain Folks" starring Zsa Zsa Gabor. On Channels 6 and 7, the "Summer Theater" will present "It's Sunny Again" with Vivian Blaine. Also making its debut is "The Kaiser Show", a new drama series succeeding Playwright's "56 on Channels 3 and 4... this program will alternate with the "Circle Theater" tonight it's "The Army Game" with Paul Newman and Edward Andrews.

Old shows include the "Chevy Show" with Gisela MacKenzie of Your Hit Parade fame; Phil Harris, comedian, and Cornel Wilde... all on Ch. 3 and 4 at 8 P.M. "The Cavalcade Theater" will present "The Rescue of Dr. Beanes", a story of the writing of the national anthem on Ch. 6 and 7.

At 10 p.m., Danish explorer Peter Freuchen may try for top money on "The $65,000 Question" on Ch. 2 and 10.

Only one baseball game will be telecast today: Yanks against Baltimore at 1:55 on Ch. 11.

Wednesday Highlights
Emmett Kelly will question the Amazing Dunninger on Ch. 6 and 7 at 8:30 p.m. Wednesday. Preceding that at 8, Martha Rountree moderates the "National Press Caravan" on Ch. 3 and 4.

In a dispute over the ICBM and its "crash" program, "Tear Open The Skies" will be on Ch. 3 and 4 at 9 p.m. Richard Carlson will star in this drama.

At 10, "Operation 3 R's" on Ch. 2 and 10, a story of World War Two... a comedy, fighting illiteracy in the Army camps.

The Giants and Dodgers will play a double header beginning at 1:25 on Ch. 11; and the Phils will face the Pirates on Ch. 6 and at 1 p.m.

St. John's Pays Final Indebtedness

AT THE SERVICE in St. John's Lutheran Church on Sunday morning the pastor, the Rev. P. N. Wohlson, D. D., announced to the large congregation in attendance that during the past week the final payments were made on the indebtedness incurred when the $27,000 improvements were made slightly over two years ago.

The congregation is free of all debt and is now concentrating upon payment of the quota for the Lutheran Ministerium Appeal for Muhlenberg College. This drive has two-thirds of the amount pledged or paid.

'AQUARAMA'
THERE'S A NEW QUEEN reigning over the waterways of the Great Lakes and her name is the Aquarama, a glamorous nine-deck, block-long liner which cost eight million dollars to build. The Aquarama, which has some features that even ocean liners lack, is now making a good will tour of lake port cities to introduce herself before she goes into regular service between Detroit and Cleveland in 1957. For the superlative minded, she's the largest, fastest, safest ship ever built for lake service. Pleasure-seeking passengers will notice her two dance floors, five bars, soda fountains, TV theater, puppet show and a supervised playroom for toddlers. There are even two escalators and elevators between decks. There are seats for 3,000 passengers. Complete restaurant can serve half of the passengers at one time. Liner, which rises 70 feet above water, has the most modern marine design features.

Topside, these passengers enjoy the sun. Tour of nine decks would cover two miles.

Note two escalators in rear of this spacious deck. Furniture here is very modern.

On dance deck, there's room for dancers and stage for band and pipe organ music.

Ruth Shelley To Be Wed Here July 7

Mr. and Mrs. William F. Shelley, former residents of East Stroudsburg now living in Philadelphia, invited friends and relatives to the wedding of their daughter, Ruth Elaine to Ira D. Clements of Wind Gap.

They will be married on July 7 at 2 p.m. in the East Stroudsburg Methodist Church.

Mrs. Anderson Charles Barr

Barr-Monsu Wedding

Bangor — Anderson Charles Barr who was graduated from East Stroudsburg State Teachers College this Spring took as his bride Miss Irene Cora Monsu, in a pretty wedding on Saturday at 2 p.m. in Our Lady of Mount Carmel, Catholic Church, Roseto.

Rev. Gennaro J. Leone performed the ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Monsu, 207 South Seventh St., Bangor. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Barr, Weidman Ave., East Bangor.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a princess style gown of pure silk taffeta and imported Chantilly lace, fashioned with a Sabrina neckline, lace yoke and sleeves, and a cathedral-length train. A pill box headpiece of orange blossoms was attached to a rubrum four-tiered veil of nylon tulle. She carried a bouquet of lilies.

Mrs. James Neri, of Stowe, a cousin of the bride, was her matron of honor. She wore a half-length gown of pink net over taffeta and carried a bouquet of white carnations with a matching headpiece.

James Neri of Stowe, was the best man.

Mrs. Thomas Ronco was organist and Mrs. Anthony Casciano was soloist.

After a reception at the Columbia Hotel, Columbia, N. J., Mr. and Mrs. Barr left for a wedding trip in the New England States. On their return they will make their home temporarily with the bride's parents, until Mr. Barr begins teaching in the Fall. The bride, a graduate of Bangor High School and Bethlehem Business College is employed by Reinhold A. Auerbach, Exporter.

Bangor Class Of 60 Honors Teacher At 50th Reunion

The 50th anniversary reunion of the class of 1906 of Bangor High School was held on Saturday night at the Greenview Guest Farm, Saylorsburg RD 1. Of the class of 16, nine were present for the dinner which had as its special guest of honor, Charles C. Bachman, of Allentown, only surviving teacher of the class.

Bachman was able to recognize all but a few of his former pupils after fifty years. He was presented with a gift from the class by Attorney Everett Kent who acted as master of ceremonies. Kent called upon each member of the class to tell whom they married, how many children they had and what they and their children are doing now. There were letters read from two members who could not attend.

Present members of the class now living are Claude Bishop, of Fort Lauderdale, Fla.; Mrs. Clara Strunk Decker, of Beverly, Calif.; Helen Flory Godshalk, Amelia Blake Lewis, Frances Correll Rapp, Everett Kent, Reimer Speer and John Foulkes, of Bangor; Carrie Reagle Miller, of East Stroudsburg; Millie Traves Souder, of Phillipsburg, N. J.; and Ella Huxley, of New York City.

Deceased members are Florence Piper Hawkins, Oscar Jordan, Lotie Jenkins Spangenberg, Rev. Charles F. Spangenberg and Dr. John Mazza.

Guests at the turkey dinner included Mr. and Mrs. Albert Foulkes, Mrs. Reimer Speer, George Godshalk, Charles Rapp, Robert Souder, Miss Olive Blake, Mrs. Everett Kent, Mrs. Alice Roberts, Mrs. Hazel Walton and Mr. Bachman.

Visit Wohlsens

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph J. Wohlsen, of Bridgeport, Conn., spent the weekend with Mr. Wohlsen's brother, Rev. P. N. Wohlsen, North Ninth St., Stroudsburg.

Just Between Us

—By Bobby Westbrook

It might be wise not to ask me for a testimonial on the cool, crisp Poconos at least not for an hour after I've gone home from the office where fresh, clothing and dispositions seem to wilt. It's only after I've simmered down for a while on the back lawn with the fireflies flickering, the new-cut grass smelling cool, and the dew dampness setting in, that I'll admit we have many advantages—the main one being that we don't have to travel to get here.

Certainly within a half-hour's drive we can take our pick of picnic places: river, lake, or mountain stream; playground pools or roadside picnic areas. Or our own backyards.

The evolution of the Fourth of July from a time of oratory and fireworks isn't as much of a change as it might seem at first glance. Instead of the fireworks exploding, the whole populace explodes—shooting off in all directions. Instead of fireworks fatalities we've traffic accidents.

The bursts of oratory are devoted, not to the glorious past of our country, but to the allegedly inglorious past of the guy who cuts in front of you in the traffic jam.

Flag-waving and patriotic speeches have fallen into disrepute of recent years, perhaps because some who waved the flag they were standing on an innocent bystander to do it, and the ones who hailed the principles of justice, liberty and equality most loudly in public were violating those principles in private.

But it's rather a shame because it is a beautiful flag, and the principles were never needed more than they are now. Maybe sometime during the day, when the picnic supper has been cleared, away and the children dragged one final time from the water and dried and dressed, when the shade is beginning to turn green in the evening light, and the quiet settles down—maybe somebody might mention what the Fourth of July is all about.

In olden days, towns used to have a day of "walking the bounds", when the boys were gathered by their fathers to walk with them along the boundaries of the town common, the rights-of-ways to the watering place, the boundary lines between the farms—so that when the boys were grown they could testify to the rights of all.

I like to think that the Fourth of July could be the same sort of thing—a walking the bounds of intangible things so that future generations can testify to the right. But these days, no town fathers will do it for you. It's strictly up to you.

Painting Class The Guests Of Mrs. Arthur Rugh

Members of the Buck Hill Falls painting class were entertained on Saturday afternoon at a get-together tea, given by Mrs. Arthur Rugh at her Wayside Studio in Swiftwater. Tea was served at a polished teak-wood dining table which had been made in China in 1909 and brought back to this country with the Rugh family in 1939.

Mrs. Rugh entertained the group with reminiscences of China and her husband's service there with the educational division of the Young Men's Christian Association. Many of her stories dealt with the history of her own paintings which adorn every inch of wall space in her house. Others concerned the many examples of Chinese art from the wrought-iron shadow pictures of the four seasons to Tibetan prayer beads.

Those attending the tea were: Mrs. J. B. Denon, Mrs. Mathias Fischer, Mrs. J. Blanchard Carr, Mrs. Isabel Roberts, Mrs. Margaret Colman, Mrs. Theodore H. Banks, Mrs. Joseph McDermott, Mrs. Charles D. Anderson, Miss Louise Thomas, Miss Ethel Marshall, Miss Sara Marshall, Miss Marianna G. Packer, Mrs. Sidney J. Winfield, and Dr. and Mrs. Herbert A. Lorenz.

Triple Event Planned By Women Of Moose

Because of the Fourth of July holiday, the Women of the Moose have changed the date of their regular meeting and will combine it with the meeting of the Secret Pals Club on Thursday, July 12, at the home of Mrs. Ruth Stanton, 430 North Courtland St., East Stroudsburg.

Because of the illness of several officers, the installation scheduled for last month will also be held at this time. The meeting will be followed by an auction sale for which every one is asked to bring a wrapped gift to be auctioned off.

The auction sale held at the last meeting was so successful, that the group voted to repeat it this month.

Card Club At Courtney's

Portland—The Afternoon Card Club was entertained at the home of Mrs. Ernest Courtney on Delaware Ave., on Friday. Bridge was played and prizes awarded to Miss Agnes Williams, Mrs. Wallace Hutcheon and Mrs. Harry Morgan.

Refreshments were served to Mrs. Frank Morhard and Miss Agnes Williams of Stateford, Mrs. Wallace Hutcheon of Mt. Bethel, Miss Ruth Jones of Bethlehem, Mrs. Raymond Transue, Mrs. E. Randall Carpenter, Mrs. Michael Pavloff, Mrs. Ethel Seeley, Mrs. Frank Gardner, Mrs. Harry Morgan, Mrs. Blair Rusling and the hostess, Mrs. Courtney of town.

Garden Club Board

The Monroe County Garden Club executive board will hold a meeting at the home of Mrs. William Sunday, 603 King St., Stroudsburg on Thursday, July 5, at 2:30 p.m.

Sparklers and Pinwheels to Celebrate the Fourth

Sparks For Fourth Of July Menu For Outdoors Or In

By Cecily Brownstone-Associated Press Food Editor

Holiday entertaining will benefit from skewer cookery. You can get delectable tidbits ready in advance, then cook and their helpers can thread them on skewers and charcoal-broil them outside or, if necessary, in the kitchen range.

Beef and lamb are usually used for skewer cookery along with appropriate vegetables. But how about something different? Here's a recipe for skewering ham with a sweet-and-sour marinade. To make life easy, use a fully-cooked ham from your market or a canned ham.

With the ham a salad of red-and-white cabbage tastes good. Call the skewered ham Sparklers and the slaw a Pin-wheel salad in honor of July Fourth.

Young and old will probably want plenty of bottled soft drinks around. Choose various flavors of carbonated beverages and put them in a tub of crushed ice to keep them cold. Small fry will enjoy decorating the tub with patriotic insignia.

Ham Sparklers

Ingredients: 2 whole cloves, 1/2 teaspoon cinnamon, 1/2 teaspoon dry mustard, 1/2 teaspoon ginger, 1 tablespoon dark brown sugar, 1/3 cup wine vinegar, 2/3 cup pineapple juice, 1 1/4 pounds fully-cooked boneless ham, 2 green peppers, 8 medium-sized mushrooms, 4 small par-boiled onions.

Method: Mix together the cloves, cinnamon, mustard, ginger, brown sugar, vinegar and pineapple juice. Cut ham into 2-inch cubes. Four seasoned mixture over ham. Refrigerate for several hours. Mix white remove tons from green peppers and cut each in half. Remove membrane and seeds. Cut each half into three sections. Wash and dry mushrooms and if stems are long cut them about even with the caps. When ready to cook, drain ham; save marinating liquid. Alternate green pepper pieces, ham and mushrooms on skewers. Insert an onion on end of each skewer. Broil over charcoal or in broiler of range until hot through, turning a few times. Brush with marinating liquid during broiling. Makes 4 servings. Recipe may be doubled.

Pin-Wheel Salad

Ingredients: 3 tablespoons cider vinegar, 1/2 teaspoon salt, 1/8 teaspoon pepper, 1/2 teaspoon dried crushed oregano, 1/2 teaspoon dry mustard, 1/2 teaspoon paprika, 1/2 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce,

1/3 cup salad oil, 2 tablespoons minced parsley, 2 tablespoons minced onion, 2 1/2 cups shredded red cabbage, 2 1/2 cups shredded white cabbage, 2 tomatoes.

Method: Mix together the vinegar, salt, pepper, oregano, mustard, paprika and Worcestershire sauce. Mix well with oil, parsley and onion. Toss red and white cabbage together. Add salad dressing to cabbage and toss gently until all cabbage is coated with dressing. Turn into salad bowl. Peel and stem tomatoes. Cut in halves; cut each half into 4 wedges. Arrange tomato wedges in pin-wheel design in center of slaw. Makes 6 servings. Note: To peel tomatoes place in boiling water for about 1 minute; cut out stem ends; pull off skin with small sharp knife. Rinse a tomato with cold water and insert a fork in the stem end; turn slowly over a gas flame until skin bursts in a few places; cut out stem-end and pull off skin with small sharp knife.

Whitehead To Speak Thursday To Legion Aux.

The American Legion Auxiliary of George N. Kemp Post will meet in the auditorium of the post home Thursday, July 5, at 8 o'clock.

John C. Whitehead, football coach at Stroudsburg High School, will be the guest speaker. Mr. Whitehead will speak on Scotland School, a subject on which he is well qualified having attended the school as a boy and later returning as a teacher.

He will speak at nine o'clock and the men of the post are invited to come and hear him also.

Canasta Club At Wagner Home

Mount Pocono — Mrs. George Wagner, of Sterling Road entertained her canasta club at her home Thursday night. Canasta and a luncheon were the highlights with Mrs. Julia Parth, Mrs. Anna Vlossak, and Mrs. Thelma MacWilliams, making high scores. The hostess was assisted in serving by her daughter Lois. The group also extended best wishes to Shirley Wagner who announced her engagement this week. Others present were: Mrs. E. L. Salerni, Mrs. Yvonne Regan, Miss Mabel Storm, and Mrs. Estell Sutton.

"If you could live any part of your life over again, which part would you choose?" asks a reader. This is one of those impossibly difficult questions, for certainly, if we studied the subject from all angles, most of us could find in every year of our lives certain mistakes that could bear rectifying, and which inevitably changed the entire future. About the best I can do is say that, rather than reliving the past, I should most sincerely wish this at this particular time I were sixteen years younger and setting up my home as a bride. Maybe it is because I am older that I see with greater clarity than before the importance of such an undertaking, and the pitfalls to be avoided. And maybe it is because the home furnishings of today are so very bright, efficient, and colorful that the entire business of housekeeping seems to me now to be one of the most exciting careers upon which any woman can embark.

Homemaking, regardless of all the gadgets and gimmicks that simplify work so amazingly, is still quite a job. But a look around our housewares department indicates that all of the utensils, appliances, and accessories of today have a whimsical wit about them that takes away the last vestige of drudgery. No longer is a pot or pan of plain aluminum or cast iron... it is encased in copper, or finished in turquoise blue, petal pink, or lemon yellow. No longer do canisters sets come in a standardized red and white or green and cream... they are pink and charcoal, blue and yellow, or whatever color scheme appeals to the public at the moment. They may even be copper-finished metal, hand painted with flowers and dew-dropped with gems. Dish pans aren't just stainless steel, or a white enamel that chips to expose a black base metal. They are flexible plastic, noiseless to handle, and in colors as pretty as bon bons on a lace doily. As for ice buckets—well, even these have come into their exciting, imaginative own. Consider those newly arrived in our housewares department—they are tall enough to hold the largest beverage bottles; molded of Plas-tex that is flexible to a degree and will absolutely not scratch or mar tables. They will not sweat, rust, or chip... require only a bit of pressure when the lid is applied, to create a perfect vacuum... and have a fiber glass insulation that will hold ice cubes intact longer. Brightly banded with golden brass, these unusual ice buckets have a handle that fits into place to serve as a towel rack. And they come in smart black or gay turquoise. At 9.95, they're as big and beautiful as Life itself, and you probably saw them illustrated in that very magazine.

Glasses are more exciting than ever too. Come in and see our wonderful new shipment of Gay Fad beverage dispensers! The pitcher is tall and graceful with a cool lemon white design. A rack full of similarly decorated glasses has matching and contrasting colors... Other glasses, sold in sets of eight, are even more unusual. One, which looks especially brisk and stimulating right now, has primitively drawn reindeer against a misty dark blue background. It reminds me of holly berries... icicles in the moonlight... Santa Claus... the echo of "Silent Night" through the crackly-cold air of Christmas eve... and the scene of spruce in a closed room. Timely at yuletide, these glasses are cute and refreshing in summer.

Another more elegant style combines royal purple and gold on a heavy glass. The design recaptures the crown jewels of the British empire, including mace, scepter and other symbols of majesty, as well as various crowns of royalty and nobility. The price is 5.98 for eight.

Gay Fad also gives us a youthful Patio Ware that has a vivid flair for modern living. Unusual glass shapes in clear milky white are lined with bold red, yellow, blue and green tones. There are pitchers, glasses of several sizes, salad bowls and serving dishes, all designed for those with an unquenchable love of life and fun.

If I could, I'd happily turn back the clock to yesterday, and the joy of setting up one's first home. But only on one condition—that I could take with me all of the things of today... because I would never even consider trading the present for the past.

Liberalizing Turns Into Major Issue

By TOM WHITNEY
AP Foreign News Analyst

THE basic question posed by the ferment among Communists and particularly by the revolt in Poland is whether a totalitarian dictatorship can afford to liberalize.

When Stalin's heirs took over the Soviet Union after him they had to make changes. The reason isn't hard to find.

Palmiro Togliatti, Italian Communist chief, recently said that if the contradictions of Stalin's era had been permitted to develop they might have led to an open rupture of the system. So there was a need for change—and the only direction was toward relaxation of tensions.

But the post-Stalin leaders in undertaking to change things launched themselves on a risky course. Relaxation was bound to open a Pandora's box of turmoil and difficulties.

As events have piled up since Nikita Khrushchev's denunciation of Stalin in February the basic issue has become even more relevant: Can a totalitarian dictatorship ease up a rule of terror and survive? Up until now, it must be said, the Soviet Communist leadership has managed to maintain a high degree of control over its realm.

But since the denunciation of Stalin one thing seems obvious: the condemnation of rule by terror makes it very difficult for the leadership to return to Stalinism. If it is dangerous for it to go too far in liberalization it is equally dangerous for it to try to return to mass terror.

The situation is complicated by the fact that within the Soviet leadership these days there is by no means so much unity as there looks to be from the outside. Different men in the leadership have different ideas. Some Soviet leaders used to Stalin's methods are unhappy about the way things have gone. Some certainly think that Stalin's way was the only way to rule.

So far since Stalin died there have been several open outbreaks similar to that in Poznan. The post-Stalin regime survived these disorders and went ahead with its program of change.

But such outbreaks do have an effect in Moscow. Perhaps sooner or later there will come a sticking point. It could come in the form of a rising like that at Poznan. Such a development could raise the question of the removal of the present leadership and replacement of it by one committed to repression. It could conceivably push things to the point where even more fundamental questions might arise.

Long Standing Invite
LONDON, July 3 (AP)—India's Prime Minister Nehru is having some time on his hands after cancellation of his visit to President Eisenhower in Washington. So he is taking up a long-standing invitation to visit Ireland for five days as an official guest starting July 7.

About 300,000 tons of dates are exported from the country of their origin every year.

During the Revolutionary War, the British Parliament was told that half the U. S. continental army came from Ireland.

Pen Argyl Bible School Sets Record

PEN ARGYL—Closing exercises of the Pen Argyl Daily Vacation Bible School were held Friday at 7 p. m. in the Zion Methodist Church. Lt. Edward Knox of the Salvation Army, who is the general superintendent of the school was in charge.

The Bible School was sponsored by the various churches of the town governed by a controlling board of administration.

Record High
This year the school has hit an all time high enrollment of 281 pupils. A display of handicrafts of the various departments was held following the exercises.

In preparation for the closing exercises Mrs. Robert Shealey, wife of the pastor of the Zion Methodist Church, spoke to the group on Wednesday. On Thursday morning the group held a picnic at Weona Park.

About one American in six plays some kind of musical instrument.

Play Opens At Bushkill Theater Today

BUSHKILL—"Time Out For Ginger" is the attraction this week at Bushkill Summer Theater. It starts tonight at 8:40.

Starred will be Art Smith, Oliver Berg and Ann Blum. Berg will be seen as Howard, head of the Carol family, a firm believer in equality and rights of the individual. Miss Blum is cast as his wife, Agnes.

Biggest Upset
When the carols' teen-age daughters—particularly Ginger, the younger—start putting their father's words into practice, things bust out all over the household. Biggest upset of them all comes when Ginger tries out for the football team—and makes it.

Others in the cast will be Patty O'Hara, Kay Costley, Edith O'Hara, Gloria Michaels Baron, Irv West, Sam Lax and Ted Schwartz. The play runs through Sunday night.

$20,000 Race Tomorrow At Monmouth
MONMOUTH PARK, N. J.—July finds thoroughbred racing at its peak, with the Fourth of July sounding the clarion for the season's officially get underway.

The stake race is at five and one half furlongs and is worth $20,000 added.

The fuse of the fireworks will be ignited when the undefeated Beauguerre from New England challenges two other undefeated youngsters, Pro Brandy and Bold Ruler.

The fact that the field is large could be a factor in ending some of the winning streaks.

River divide farm has named Ernie's Isle, Jet Comet and Three Bobs, while Mr. Seymour, a stablemate of Needles, would be the D & H stable representative. Other prominent Tyro eligibles are Mr. Bowes, Encore, Burma Charm, King Gaudemus.

Holiday Program—The Tyro, a holiday attraction is designed especially for the younger racing set, and is one of the more important juvenile offerings of the year.

The influx of visitors to the North Jersey resort area is resulting in sharply accelerated wagering and attendance.

Bolt Victim Gains
OCEANPORT, N. J.—'Borje, owned by Cannuli and Moore and trained by William Manzi, is recovering nicely from the effects of being struck by a bolt of lightning during an electrical storm recently. The colt, despite the shock, has been eating regularly ever since the incident.

Princeton's Leighton Ford from Glen Riddle, Pa., allowed only two earned runs in 47-23 innings of Eastern Intercollegiate League pitching this spring.

CO-CHAMPIONS AND KING—Henry Williams, left, Berleigh Country Club professional, and his amateur partner, Leo Heller, are shown after sharing the co-championship of the Pro-Amateur Golf Tournament at Glen Brook Country Club yesterday. Williams and Heller fired a 67 to tie John Lewis and Harvey Smith, Holmesburg C. C., players. Williams also won the individual pro crown with a spectacular four-under par 69.

White Sox Hand Tigers 12th Straight Home Loss

DETROIT, July 2 (P)—The Detroit Tigers failed for the 12th straight time on their home grounds today, committing four errors to let in seven unearned runs in a 9-3 loss to the Chicago White Sox. The Tigers have not won a game in Briggs Stadium since June 15.

The White Sox, bouncing back from a double defeat by Cleveland Sunday, came from a two-run deficit to score three times in the seventh inning on just one hit.

They scored five more in the eighth to wrap up their fourth victory over the Tigers without a loss.

NEW YORK, July 2 (P)—Television and radio rights to the All-Star and World Series baseball games for the next five years have been sold to the Gillette Safety Razor Co., and the National Broadcasting Co., for $3,250,000 a year, baseball Commissioner Ford Frick announced today.

The new contract will become effective in 1957 and will replace the six-year contract made by the then Commissioner Albert B. (Happy) Chandler with Gillette and Mutual Radio Corp. in 1951 for $1,150,000 per year.

A total of $16,250,000 will be realized under the new agreement. Sixty per cent, or $1,950,000, during each of the next five years, will go to the players for their pension fund. Under the present pact, the players have been getting only $600,000 a year.

Frick, who handled the negotiations, expressed gratification with the result of the new agreement which, he said, protected and guaranteed the pension fund for the players for another five years.

Immediate Openings for DESIGNERS
at General Electric's
AIRCRAFT PRODUCTS DEPT.

Positions are being created faster than we can upgrade men from within the organization to fill them. In-plant technical courses, management and supervisory programs, a unique Family Benefit plan, are just some of the many things General Electric is doing to attract and keep the caliber of person we want to grow with us.

Requirements: 2 years technical school or equivalent, and experience which includes at least 3 years of design drafting related to any one of the following:

ELECTRONIC EQUIPMENT
AIRCRAFT INSTRUMENTS
MECHANICAL AND HYDRAULIC DEVICES
INTRICATE MECHANISMS

You will make original design layouts, furnish technical support to engineers and guide detailers.

Interviews any evening or Saturday.
Drive over, and bring the family along.
For an appointment, call:
Charlie Irwin, COLLECT
at 7-4488, Binghamton, N. Y.

Cards' Boyer Is Becoming Feared Batter

By SHELDON SAKOWITZ
NEW YORK, July 2 (P)—Ken Boyer, in only his second season with the St. Louis Cardinals, already has developed into one of the most feared batsmen in the National League.

The 25-year-old right-handed swinger is hitting .338 and trails pace-setting Ed Bailey of Cincinnati by only 5 points. Boyer has slugged 19 homers, one less than Chicago's Ernie Banks and already has exceeded last season's total of 18. His RBI production is 56. Figures include games through Sunday.

Most Hits
Boyer also has collected the most hits in the league, 94; is tied for the most runs, 55; and is tied for second in doubles, 15.

Rookie Frank Robinson of Cincinnati gained 11 points in the batting race to move from eighth to third at .324. Pittsburgh's Roberto Clemente holds down fourth with .322, followed by the Cards' Stan Musial in fifth at .318.

Free-swinging Mickey Mantle of the New York Yankees continues to thrive on American League pitching as he dominates the batting, home runs and RBI departments. Mantle is hitting .379, has walked 29 homers and has driven home 71 runs.

Average Up 3 Points
The switch-hitting outfielder boosted his average 3 points last week with 9-for-22 to open up a 17-point bulge over runner-up Charley Maxwell of Detroit. Maxwell, swinging at a .382 clip, picked up 1 point with 8-for-22.

The Tigers' Harvey Kuenn remains third at .349 despite a 5-point dip, Chicago's Minnie Minoso and Mickey Vernon of Boston exchanged positions. Minoso advanced from fifth to fourth at .320, while Vernon, slumping 20 points, dropped from fourth to fifth with .319.

Strike Sport
Hacker singled to launch this sport, and before it was over Don Hoak and Gene Baker fired productive singles. The third run was the result of Don Blasingame's first of two errors on Dee Fondy's grounder.

Three hits produced two Cub runs in the sixth, and the winners' final counter clattered across in the seventh.

1956 All-Star Game Is Sure To Be Remembered By 'Four'

By JOE REICHLER
NEW YORK, July 2 (P)—Regardless of the outcome of the 1956 major league All-Star game at Washington, the 23rd annual mid-summer contest next Tuesday, July 10, will be remembered for at least four things:

1. Not a single starter from 1955's victorious National League squad will be in the 1956 opening lineup.

2. Not one member of the world champion Brooklyn Dodgers will be among the starters.

3. The 1955 batting champion (Richie Ashburn), home run king (Willie Mays), runs batted in leader (Duke Snider) pitching pacer (Don Newcombe) and Most Valuable Player (Roy Campanella) all will be absent from the starting National League nine.

4. A second-division team of 1955 (Cincinnati) will be represented by eight members, five of them in the starting lineup.

In sharp contrast, the American League All-Stars will place on the field seven starters from last year. All-Star managers Walt Alton of the Dodgers and Casey Stengel of the Yankees completed their 25-man squads today.

Seeks Ninth
The veteran Yankee pilot, seeking his second All-Star triumph in six tries against the National League's best, selected eight pitchers. Alton, who managed the 1954 squad, to lose since 1949, named only seven pitchers.

Stengel selected two left-handers, Chicago's Billy Pierce, the American League's winningest hurler with a 13-3 mark, and his own Whitey Ford (9-4). The right-handers are Jim Wilson (10-4) of the White Sox, Tom Brewer (10-3) of the Red Sox, Earl Wynn (6-4) and Ray Narleski (2-3) of the Indians and Johnny Kucks (10-4) of the Yankees.

Alton picked righties Clem Labine (7-3) of the Dodgers, Brooks Lawrence (10-4) of the Redlegs, Bob Friend (11-4) of the Pirates and Robin Roberts (8-9) of the Phillies. He took left-handeders John Stengel named first baseman Vic Power of Kansas City, Roy Sievers of Washington, right fielder Harry Simpson of Kansas City, Boston's Jackie Jensen, and his own Billy Martin and Gil McDougald at second and short.

Catcher Sherman Lollar of Chicago, third baseman Ray Boone and left fielder Charlie Maxwell of Detroit and center fielder Jimmy Piersall of Boston made up the rest of the squad.

Catches
Stengel named Charlie Dressen of the host Washington club and Yankee Jim Turner as coaches. Alton picked Managers Birdie Hutchison of St. Louis as his lieutenant.

The Americans hold a 15-0 edge in the series that started in 1933. There was no game in 1945.

Palmer Tops Kroll
WATERSFIELD, Conn., July 2 (P)—Arnold Palmer of Latrobe, Pa., won the Insurance City Open Golf Tournament today on the second hole of a sudden-death playoff with Ted Kroll of Fort Lauderdale, Fla.

Women's West Champ
DENVER, July 2 (P)—Betty Hanson, 31-year-old, Apple Valley, Calif., professional, won the Women's Western Open Golf Championship today with a closing par 76 and a 304 total for 72 holes.

Set Bait Trap To Control Apple Maggot; Tiny Mites Blister Maple Tree Leaves

IF YOU'VE GOT APPLE TREES in your back yard, you can do a lot to control the apple maggot, a constant menace, by using a bait trap. Take 3 or 4 five-pound honey pails (or similar type of container) which can be hung on limbs, about eye high and on the sunny side of the trees. Fill each pail lipping full with water, add a pinch of detergent and a tablespoon of household ammonia. It wouldn't do a bit of harm to add a teaspoon of methoxychlor to this. Strain the pails daily to remove all insects including the apple maggot flies.

these traps.

Maple Tree Notes

This department receives many letters each week from distressed home owners asking us what causes the "blisters" on the surface of their maple leaves. These growths are caused by tiny mites, too small to be seen by the naked eye. The most common pest is the maple bladder gall mite, causing "pimples" on the upper surface of the leaves of silver maples (soft maple). The galls are yellowish green at first, later turning black. As for actual harm to the tree, they do little damage, although they are unsightly. In some instances the leaves may turn yellow and drop prematurely, and this may weaken a tree. Too late to check them now, but next spring (early April) spray your trees with malathion before the leaf buds start to open, just after or during the blossoming period, if you want to prevent gall mite damage.

Free: Want to know more about this tree trouble? Send me a self-addressed, stamped envelope for a free bulletin on gall forming insects. No postal cards, please friends.

Mexican Bean Beetle

The worst pest your beans can get is the Mexican bean beetle. Get them while they're young or just as they are hatching. The older they get the harder it is to check the pest. Rotonone is still a good dust for this pest, being very safe for the home gardener. Dust the undersides of the leaves, since both the larvae and the adults do all of their feeding on the under surface. Two doses about 7 days apart will do the trick.

Shipment Of Cows

MONTREAL, July 2 (AP)—A shipment of 56 cows is enroute to Venezuela to help that country cut its 35-million-dollar annual bill for dairy imports. Purebred Ayrshires and Holsteins, they were bought by Venezuela to help start herds replacing the Creole cows introduced by the Spaniards years ago. The Creoles are not good milk producers.
